

Workshop in Primate Ecology and Conservation

at Anton de Kom University, Paramaribo & Brownsberg Nature Park

3-12 September 2013

The workshop is open to students in the Environmental Sciences Program, Anton de Kom University of Suriname and the Biology Program of the Advanced Teachers Training Institute.

Classroom and field training in

- primates of Suriname
- community ecology
- GIS use and mapping
- conservation of primate habitats
- presentation of professional papers

For more information, contact Dr. Paul Ouboter (p.ouboter@uvs.edu) or Ms. Sonja Carilho (s.carilho@uvs.edu), Anton de Kom University of Suriname, Ms. Joelaika Behari-Ramdas at the Advanced Teachers Training Institute (rambehar@yahoo.com), or Dr. Marilyn Norconk (mnorconk@kent.edu) USA.

Funding for the workshop was provided by the International Primatological Society (Jacobsen Award) and Primate Conservation, Inc.